

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are illiterate has increased from 1.2 billion to 1.5 billion.

There are many reasons for this. One is that the population of the world is growing so fast that the number of people who are illiterate is increasing even though the percentage of illiterate people is decreasing.

Another reason is that the quality of education is poor in many countries. Many children who go to school do not learn to read and write.

There are also many people who are illiterate because they do not have access to schools. In many rural areas, there are no schools or the schools are very far away.

Finally, there are many people who are illiterate because they do not have the time or money to go to school. They have to work to support their families.

There are many ways to reduce the number of illiterate people in the world. One way is to improve the quality of education. Another way is to provide more schools in rural areas.

Finally, we need to provide more support for people who are poor and do not have the time or money to go to school.

If we do these things, we can reduce the number of illiterate people in the world and help them to improve their lives.
